

OMNIA fondonatura

We work in order to always provide services and products which first of all satisfy client's needs.

We create our products without thinking that profit is the only measure of value.

We develop our projects in order to consistently and effectively transmit skills and professionalism to our clients. We don't use special effects but we just do what we say.

We have been doing this for 40 years and we still want to continue, because we believe that success and ethic can coexist.

Fondonatura

Only Quality

at the service of the most qualified hairdressers

A 40-years' experience and passion.

Fondonatura has an innate passion for the concept of green. Best results and products were achieved from vegetable extracts and bioactives, especially in the field of trichology. And yet, as time passes and world matters change, people has come to think nowadays that only an extremely complicated and "organic" formulations can provide the best results. But, mostly because of our "natural" origin and passion for green, we know that nature and science cannot be intended as incompatible or as antagonistic: instead, nature is a great teacher. All you have to do is listen to it. OMNIA is the union between science and nature, past and present, ideas, research, green actives and functional substances that science selected over the last years. This line of products was formulated with the most carefully selected, pure and sustainable raw material, not tested on animals. And it is SLES and parabens free. This line of products is the result of a natural combination that aims at establishing a perfect balance between wellness and beauty.

Roots

back to the origins

A natural imprint that has been leading us for 40-years. The result is OMNIA, the union between two lines composed of different treatments:

- Therapy, the trichological line especially formulated for treatments against the beauty flaws of the scalp, and that will restore its wellness.

- Specific, the line will provide an important beauty and cosmetic effect on the different types of hair.

THERAPY

TO FIND THE WELLNESS

The scalp, and consequently the hair, are subjected to continuous stress with direct and indirect consequences that alter the normal physiological balance of the hydro-lipid film, the main protection of our skin.

The consequences, at times, are visible in the immediate, others occur with the passage of time, giving life to what are the main anomalies of the scalp: desquamation, dandruff, excessive seborrhea, weakening and falling.

The scalp no longer ensures the necessary oxygenation and the necessary nourishment to hair that loses its luminosity, its compactness and thickness, showing a greater fragility due to a lower elasticity: the fold and all the technical services are also affected.

Therefore, it is fundamental to free the scalp from accumulations of waste and toxins, deeply hydrating it through a specific program that uses natural active ingredients that can restore balance to the skin.

Plant extracts, white clay, bio-active ingredients obtained from the most valuable plants, delicate and highly biodegradable green surfactants that have the ability to protect the fiber and the scalp are the basis on which the THERAPY line was born.

SLES FREE: The natural imprint also in surfactants: OMNIA, being a line aimed exclusively at women, bases the cleansing action of its cleansing milks on eco-friendly surfactants of vegetable origin since they are biodegradable and have a greater respect. of colored hair. They are surfactants based on amino acids, peptides and their derivatives that also perform a barrier function because they reduce trans-epidermal water loss.

They have a very delicate cleansing action thanks to their excellent toxicological profile.

The combination of sarcosinates and glutamates has enormous advantages, especially on colored hair, since it reduces the color variations due to washing and improves the sensorial parameters such as color homogeneity, brightness, intensity and conditioning.

SPECIFIC

TO MAKE COSMETICITY

Nature provides assets with extraordinary properties. Science enhances its effectiveness and amplifies the results. This is how products are born in which the balance between technology and nature creates excellent results. The SPECIFIC line is a treatment line, created to meet the needs of treated, thin and curly hair. In fact, these three types of hair need different treatments because they have different characteristics: nourishment, softness, lightness and elasticity are the demands of a treated hair. Volume, body and lightness are the basic requirements for products intended for thin hair. Still, deep nourishment, hydration, definition and elasticity is what the curly hair lacks.

We have therefore created products capable of responding to the needs of the fiber and aiming above all at the final cosmeticity. The use of plant-based surfactants, SLES FREE, is new, becoming fundamental especially for the feminine hair. In fact, it has been demonstrated how these green surfactants respect the color of the hair leaving it brilliant and intact longer than the SLES and how greater is their moisturizing and conditioning action on the hair fiber. This is why the entire OMNIA line is based on the use of these green raw materials.

THERAPY

IT RESTORES THE EQUILIBRIUM OF THE SCALP FOR A NEW WELLNESS.

HAIR LOSS PROGRAMME

One of the consequences of a stressful life, a chaotic everyday life, and of environmental pollution is that in the last years a growing number of women are experiencing hair loss. There is an important psychological side on the matter of hair loss in women, more important than it happens with men. This is not only because of the beauty imperfection that hair loss necessarily causes in women, but also because hair loss in women is culturally less accepted. For this reason it is extremely important to nourish the hair follicle and to reinforce the hair stalk so that hair loss can be attacked. The Hair loss Fondonatura programme will provide a delicate cleansing, thanks to the specific SLES FREE formulation, and will stimulate the hair follicle in order to get thicker hair, and the hair stalk will be nourished and reinforced, keeping the hair follicle in place in the dermis to allow the hair to live longer and better.

CLEANSING AND REINFORCING MILK FOR PREDISPOSED TO HAIR LOSS

This product contains Achillea, Farfara, and China (Auxina Tricogena) that provides prevention against excessive weakening of the hair follicle. It contains a Ginger extract (Zingiber officinale), with an anti-oxidant, energizing and anti-inflammation effect, that will help restoring microcirculation, thus providing nourishment to the hair follicle and consequently enhance the structure of your hair. The Tilia Tormentosa, which is rich in Polysaccharides, provides a volumizing action on the structure of your hair, also due to the presence of Panthenol. The Acetyl Tetrapeptide-3 and Trifolium Pratense will stimulate collagen synthesis and inhibit the 5-alpha reductase, keeping the follicle in place. The vegetable origin Basic Tensioactives (SLES FREE) are rich in amino acids and peptides, and will provide a delicate cleansing action while respecting the color.

DANDRUFF PROGRAMME

Dandruff is, among the beauty imperfections of the scalp, the most difficult to eliminate. There are two kinds of dandruff, which are visible in a different way. The normalizing Fondonatura program is able to tackle both kinds of dandruff, especially because of the complex action of its active principles, which opposes bacterial proliferation (pytirosporum ovalis), excessive desquamation, excessive discharge of sebum, absence of elasticity of the skin and itch. Pyroctone olamine and Zinco pyrion will tackle the bacterial proliferation; the action is completed by a further active principle anti-dandruff which is contained in the normalizing anti-dandruff lotion. A combination of vegetable extracts will gradually restore the physiological, optimal condition of the scalp. The washing action of the cleansing milk is extremely delicate, because it is based on a SLES FREE washing system that provides better sensorial parameters, such as homogeneity of color, luminosity, intensity and conditioning.

NORMALIZING CLEANSING MILK FOR THE SCALP PREDISPOSED TO DANDRUFF

SEBUM BALANCING PROGRAMME

To obtain normal conditions in scalps with excessive discharge of sebum it is necessary to have a definite program, in which the starting point must be to keep the area clean and to be applied constantly. If the scalp has a lot of external substances (sebum, toxins, dead cells...) this means a really bad condition for the hair. For this reason, it is very important, first of all, to keep your hair and scalp very clean, which is necessary to allow the active principles contained in the sebum equalizing products of the Fondonatura Therapy line to produce the desired effects. Such active principles will normalize the secretion of sebum, whose cause is well known to be complex and deep, and will delicately clean without stressing the sebaceous glands are not stressed. A specific attention is dedicated on the length of the hair. In case of excessive discharge of sebum the hair can appear without tone, opaque, heavy. For this reason, surfactants derived from coconut and based on amino acids and peptides will provide a better luminosity, and the conditioning of the hair stalk and the active principles will provide more volume to the roots and will extend the duration of the hair set.

PURIFYING CLEANSING MILK FOR GREASY HAIR

This product is based on a delicate and balanced formula, containing surfactants of vegetable origin (SLES FREE), and enriched with Ximenia and Orange Peel extract that provide a balancing action on the sebum production. The Lysine complex will act on the sebum regulating action of the cleansing milk, and the Sea Kelp extract will provide a delicate astringent action on the hair follicles. An active anti-microbic will provide a regulating action on itch and dandruff that are frequently caused by an excessive production of sebum that determines maceration in the epidermis stratum corneum and therefore bacterial proliferation. Restore normal condition in case of an excessive sebum production requires perseverance of action and a dedicated program, especially centered on cleaning, the frequency of which must be decided by your hairstylist.
